Bad Luck Continues

Narberth Loses Twice at Baseball

On Saturday, Narberth lost their second Main Line game to Ardmore by a score of 7 to 6. The team showed good form and put up a good fight. Narberth put in a sparkling rally but fell one run short. Ardmore posing them out. The team has lost two league games in succession by close scores, but expect to do better in the future. Hood held Ardmore to eight hits while Narberth got 11. M. Hecke and L. Ricklin, both new recruits for the team are giving a very good account of themselves. Dickie's hitting feat and for Narberth.

A GROWING FEATURE.

Children Are Making Use of Their Corner of the Library.

From the Children's Corner of the Community Library comes a modest "Present." Not too loud, for while all the children in Narberth are invited, still, if they all came at once, they would not find enough books to go round. But they soon will. Many of them have already helped by bringing to the corner some of their own books—lending them to all the children instead of to only their own friends. Altogether there are over two hundred books on the shelves, and more gay, new ones are being added each month. Three particularly bright ones this month are:

"Katrinka," the little Russian child who dances her way to happiness right through the hardness of the pre-revolutionary government.

"The Story of Live Dolls," a charming tale of dolls that came alive and played with their mothers for a whole month. And they promised to come again some time!

"Rip Van Winkle," with enchanting pictures by N. C. Wyeth.

All the books are free, and we hope as many as possible of the children will enjoy them.

VISIT THE ZOO.

Twenty-two members of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, with Miss Ruth Haws as leader, visited the Zoological Garden on Friday. The youngsters enjoyed the many attractions, after which they had a picnic in Fairmount Park. Friends supplied automobiles for transportation.

VETERANS AT SERVICE

The Harold D. Speakman Post and the Auxiliary attended the Presbyterian Church service on Sunday morning. Many of the ex-service boys were in uniform. Three veterans of the Civil War were also present, James McDavitt, W. B. Humes, and Rev. Henry Shindle, the latter taking part in the services.

Home And School In Annual Meeting

H. A. Banks is chosen as New President

New officers for the Home and School Association were elected at the Annual Meeting of the Association which was held in the High School Auditorium last Thursday. Following are the officers who were elected to serve the Association next year:

President—H. A. Banks.
Vice-President—Fred C. Patton.
Secretary—Mrs. L. C. Douglas.
Treasurer—Jesse S. Harris.
At-Large—Mrs. L. W. Nickerson.
The Annual Report of the Treasurer of the Association showed that all bills had been paid, and that there was a balance of $8.85 in the treasury.

The program of entertainment for the evening consisted of an informal talk by Miss Frances Maltby, Executive Secretary of the Council for Nursing Education for Southeastern Pennsylvania. This was in the form of a social talk on the general subject of training young girls in the art of nursing. All of the girls of the higher grades of the public schools of Narberth were invited to be present, with particular reference to those in the High School classes.

Miss Maltby explained the need for greater activity in the nursing education in the schools of the country. "In stating that there is a need for 100,000 graduate nurses," Miss Maltby said, "we do not mean at all that there is a dearth of nurses; there are twice as many now as there was ten years ago. It simply means that the American people have begun to find out how to regard a trained nurse as they should."

Miss Maltby, a graduate nurse herself, was able to tell of the actual conditions in many of the hospitals which girls would meet in pursuing the registration course now required by law, before they are graduated from such institutions.

During the winter months, the Home and School Association has given the residents of the Borough, at each of its monthly meetings, some topic which had in it a particular message with regard to the health or welfare of the school children. Among the several topics discussed were: The lunch facilities, athletics, the need for vocational guidance, increased school facilities, art as it is taught in the schools of the State with its application to the home, and the real need and opportunity afforded by having an Association in which the parents and the teachers can co-operate for the best interests of the children of the Borough.

The membership of the Association, considering the number of homes in Narberth, is very small, there being not more than 150 homes represented. A special effort will be made next year to increase the membership, which should without doubt include every home in the Borough.

AUTO ACCIDENT.

Jackie O'Brien, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. X. O'Brien, of Windsor and Dudley avenues, was knocked down and run over on Tuesday, May 30th, by a roadster driven by Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick, of Essex avenue. The child darted into the street as the car was turning around, too late to be seen by the driver. Another car rushed the boy to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, where he is being treated for severe fracture of the arm and lacerations.

Narberth Choral To Be Held Featured At Bryn Mawr Event

Will Support Article of International Fame

Miss Alice Gentle

The stage is set for June 10th!

On that date the Narberth Choral will add to its laurels by being the main attraction at an open air festival to be given on the Bryn Mawr Polo Grounds at 8 o'clock by the Main Line Auxiliary for the benefit of the Seamen's Church Institute.

From plans already completed as announced yesterday by Professor Clarence C. Nice under whose direction the musical arrangements have been placed, the festival promises to be the most important outdoor musical event which Philadelphia has had for several years.

With the chorus will appear Alice Gentle, prima donna of the Scotti Opera Company and now filling a concert engagement at Ravinia Park, Chicago. Miss Gentle is a coloratura soprano of rare talent, accredited by several well known critics with the honor of being one of the best Carmens that the present generation has seen. She has a voice of unusual charm and quality which has won for her international recognition as an artist of the first rank. With her will be Ciro DeRitis, formerly baritone soloist of the La Scala Opera, Milan, Italy, and more recently guest soloist of the San Carlos Opera Company.

These artists will sing numbers from the operas and will take the lead parts with the chorus. They will be accompanied by the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Philadelphia. To the Choral have been added several voices of excellent quality since the last public performance which the Society gave in Narberth.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate an audience of several thousand persons at the Polo Grounds on June 10. So much interest has already been shown in the event by music lovers and persons socially prominent in and about Philadelphia that a crowd of such size seems assured. The subscription list is now long, many of the boxes and choicer seats already having been taken. This result has been accomplished by the policy outlined by Professor Nice who has insisted that only artists and music of the very highest order be used to make the program. The wisdom of his judgment already has been demonstrated by the enthusiasm which has greeted the advance announcements of the festival not alone from Main Line interests but from every section around Philadelphia.

Proceeds will be given by the Main Line Auxiliary to the building fund of the Seamen's Church Institute to erect the first unit of a new building which will house that charity at its present location at Second and Dock streets.

JUNIORS MEET.

The final meeting of the Junior Section, W. C. C., was held at the home of Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick, on Essex avenue, on Thursday, May 25th.

After the regular business meeting, Miss Helen Jones, ex-President of the Club, gave a delightful informal resume of her trip abroad during the year 1919, especially interesting because of the close-up views of post-war conditions existing over there during that period, which Miss Jones and her party, because of special passports, were able to glimpse first-hand. A social hour and refreshments followed.

THE DEBT TO THE HOME COMMUNITY

The American people have always taken pride in being "self made." If you ask the average successful man how he attained his good fortune, he will usually admit that it was mostly through his own efforts. Very frequently he fails to realize the things that were done for him by others.

Back of every person who has accomplished anything in life, whether great deeds, or humble tasks in a modest sphere, there lies a certain heritage from the past, and a certain set of influences coming from ones environment.

Ordinary people owe at least half of their attainments to the schools they attended, to the religious and civic influences under which they have lived, to the influence of friends and relatives, and to people who have helped them acquire skill in their life work. Most of us would never have gained the results we have accomplished had it not been for these legacies of education and training and development.

A deep sense of gratitude ought to come over one, in thinking how much one has gained by what has been handed on to us. It seems mean to live a self-centered life, and make no return for this noble heritage. The true-hearted person should have a heart overflowing with good will to the community where he has lived. The benefits received did not stop when he finished school, but have continued ever since. They offer protection, peace, social and educational advantages, industrial and business opportunities. If the people of Bryn Mawr have the right spirit, a feeling of affection for our home town will fill our hearts, with a resolve to make some return for all benefits which are here enjoyed.

One will wish to show appreciation by giving time to public work, and if one is able, money to the home cause.

LOYALTY TO HOME INTERESTS

Affection for one's home town ought not to be merely a warm and generous sentiment, and a willingness to co-operate in public improvement, but there should be a practical movement of loyalty and partnership binding together all the people of a community.

If the people of a city stand together in a business way, keep their money at home, depend upon each other for services and merchandise, that city is going ahead a great deal faster than if this condition does not prevail.

When you send money away from home, you drain away the life blood of the commercial community. Yet set that money to circulation in some more or less distant city, building up prosperity there. Meanwhile your own associates and business neighbors have suffered from the lack of your co-operation.

The resident of Narberth owes a great deal to the business men of this community. They have supported with their influence and taxes the public improvements that give us the advantages of living. They pay a good share of the costs of the schools, streets, and other facilities. If they prosper all these advantages keep improving. But if these business men are left to fight their own battle by the act of their townspeople, then they can't do so much for Narberth. A spirit of selfishness will creep into our business relations.

A town where the people feel a strong "ethos" of loyalty to each other, here they take pride in their home institutions and enterprises, where they patronize the home dealer every time rather than seek fancy advantage elsewhere, has the right spirit of local patriotism. It will be one which is constantly gaining in population, advantages and culture.

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL REBELLION

Along in the spring and early summer, say many school teachers, the annual desire of many boys to go to work begins to be a factor in school. They have dragged along since September, they have not been much interested in their studies, and can't seem to make progress.

They feel out of touch with the school environment, and they think if they could only get to work and have some money of their own coming in regularly, they would be all right, and their life problem would be solved.

So they quit and take some simple kind of work that anyone can do. For two or three years they are proud as kings, with enough money in their pockets to swell around and treat the girls and blow in for shows. But later begins to dawn on them that they are getting nowhere. No business men consider them qualified for a responsible job. They are not making progress any more than they did in school.

Good students are happy in their environment, and they are glad to follow the regular path of education that leads them on to success. But those who are slow in their studies get disgruntled with school conditions and fail to see the value of study. Having failed in one form of activity, they have the restless feeling that they could do better if they would try something else.

It is one of the biggest problems before the schools to show them the mistake they would make if they quit.

The young people who leave school too early prejudice their future career. They have not learned to think; they have acquired no conception of business or citizenship; they have not developed habits of efficiency. The business world will turn them down. They must go to school until they have acquired the fundamental principles of success, or life will be a trying experience.

QUITE ANOTHER MATTER

irate Papa—"No, sir. My daughter can never be yours."

Bright Suitor—"Quite right, Sir. She can not possibly be my daughter. I only wanted her to be my wife."

Mrs. John Backford Brooks entertained at luncheon on Friday when the guests included Mrs. James V. Baker, of Upper Darby, Mrs. Aldine K. Silver, Mrs. David H. Plank and Mrs. Bryden Pease, of Narberth.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, of Conway Ave., attended a dinner dance on Monday evening to celebrate the 1st anniversary of the Bishop Kendrick Council, Knights of Columbus, held at the Women's Club, Ardmore.

NARBERTH SHADE TREES

To the Editor of "Our Town":

The writer has enquired of several people concerning the matter of Narberth's shade trees. Are trees in Narberth under the control of the Borough? Can a man do what he pleases with a tree in his own property?

If I remember rightly, "Our Town" published an article about a year ago on the subject of shade trees. Can you give us this information again?
Acer.

We find that the information referred to was published under date of June 11th, 1921. For the benefit of many resident who, from time to time, have enquired about this matter, we are reprinting herewith the code of rule and regulations adopted by Council on May 28, 1921. It will be noted that the jurisdiction of the Borough is only along the highways, which include all property within a margin of ten feet from each curb, regardless of the exact property line. (Ed.)

The Shade Tree Commission assumes exclusive and absolute custody and control of, and power to plant, set out, remove, maintain, protect and care for shade trees on all public highways of the Borough of Narberth, as shown on blue print map of chart of such highways approved by Borough Council.

The spraying of all street trees and pruning of all the street trees in so far that the lower branches or limbs will not be a nuisance to pedestrians or vehicles and will not interfere with street lighting, will be ordered by and under the direction supervision of the Shade Tree Commission; the costs of such maintenance and care to be paid by Borough Councils as provided by Act of May 1st, 1907, authorizing Shade Tree Commissions and the General Borough Act of May 14, 1915.

Written authorization from any member of the Shade Tree Commission will be required before any tree on the public highways are to be planted, removed, pruned or sprayed.

Written authorization from any member of the Shade Tree Commission will be required for digging soil surrounding any shade tree on the public highways, to a depth exceeding one foot, within a distance equal to twelve (12) times the diameter of the tree.

Trunks of all trees on public highways of the Borough are to be protected during the construction or repair of any nearby buildings in a manner approved by the Shade Tree Commission.

Public Utilities Corporations or Public Service Corporations are required to secure written authorization, from any member of the Shade Tree Commission before cutting or pruning any shade tree under the care of the Shade Tree Commission and will be required to properly trim or prune such shade trees so that the trees will not be injured or damaged by any poles or wires on public highways. The expense to be borne by said Public Service Corporation.

Such companies or corporations will be required to remove and replace wires at their expense on public highways, at the request of the Shade Tree Commission, for the planting or removal of shade trees.

Fines. The Shade Tree Commission will notify Borough Council of any infraction of the foregoing rules and will impose a fine of Ten (10) Dollars for any and each infraction. Such fines to be collected as provided by law.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

It has been customary in past years with the spoils system, upon the election of a new President, to remove from Federal offices those of the opposite political faith. Civil service instituted, some worthy servants of the public were retained. Why should this idea be overturned now, with respect to our own Borough Post Office. We have had as Postmaster a capable, efficient and courteous servant who has been well worthy of his hire. Should we now, simply because his only defect is that of belonging to the opposite political faith of our present President, allow him to be removed without a protest? Were his retention based on anything but merit, then and only then might it be in order to reward some starving politician, who might after some years' experience, prove of merit.

The writer is a Republican, a Theodore Roosevelt Republican, and believes in proper party rule. When his party, through improper leadership, placed before the people the wrong candidate, then he, like thousands of others, voted for Gifford Pinchot. Neither Roosevelt nor Pinchot would intervene in a family borough like Narberth to throw out a capable, efficient and courteous Postmaster simply to reward some party worker. There are no starving Republicans in Narberth, and undoubtedly many others of Republican affiliation will be glad if our present Postmaster is retained.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

A very dear neighbor of ours in this delicious Borough made mention of the fact that he had recently been pinched for money. This struck us as rather peculiar. Upon thinking it over, however, we decided it must have been simply another new way his wife has adopted for getting it. Ours invariably kisses us whenever she wants any. But there is no set rule applying to every case.

This same lady who shares our joys and griefs is somewhat musically inclined. Last week she invited a prominent North Sider to join with us in our evening soup chorus. Nothing loath, he accepted the invitation, appearing in regulation costume. In an effort to produce a proper effect and exhibit her accomplishment as well (we imagine) our better but smaller half asked the prominent N. S. if he would like a sonata before dinner. And she was "some took back" when he declared that he had a couple before he started but guessed he could stand another.

Why does Hon. Bobnash persist in terming a Realtor we wonder? A rose smells no sweeter for the mere change of its name.

And right here the Columbian lays hold on the opportunity to congratulate the above esteemed Real Estate Magistrate and his worthy competitor as well upon their much advertised brotherly decision regarding Sabbath observance. They have our unqualified approval. But as to our co-operation, we shall withhold that until we know more definitely just what they propose doing with themselves each Sunday. There are so many varied methods in vogue among Lord's Day observers at present that one must use care in deciding with which coterie one wishes to associate oneself. The tremendous effort required in attending Church would be nothing short of disastrous to those who celebrate the day under the soothing, peaceful influence of the golf links or the tennis courts. And vice versa, naturally. It's a queer world and no mistake.

Yes, we will submit that it is a mighty queer world. Over in Albania the women are discarding trousers in an attempt to become modern. And here in our town they are putting them on for the same bally reason. It gets us.

That the trend of the paragraph toward fashions now, we wish to brand as untrue the report that the old night shirt is coming back. Not our old one. Last we saw of it 'twas swathed about the business end of a broom wiping cobwebs off the walls.

We have always maintained it was impossible to figure which way cats were going to jump and now we are sure of it. Not so long since, the esteemed Women's Community Club advised us they had shut up shop for the hot weather season. So we marked them off the list of light summer reading forthwith. But we see "be the paypur" that the emporium is to be by no means closed, on the other hand "various activities more of a social nature" will supplant those which ran rampant during the Winter and Spring.

This makes us as mad as a wet hen. Here we were, counting on the absolute freedom of the Borough until Fall, but now we are deliberately barred from those Stepey Place lawns on Tuesday afternoons for the rest of the summer. Still it may start to rain every Tuesday about two P. M. And the mere thought of that makes us leer with satisfaction and burble with glee.

Swinging thus to the world famed subject of equal rights, we comment on good authority that "there ain't no such thing." If you do not believe us or agree with us, lay the matter on the front stoop of our own esteemed Prof. Wilson and let him be the judge. Of the two largest rivers in the western hemisphere, one is an Amazon and the other is a combination of Mississippi and Missouri. Why the esteemed W's Community Club never put that in their Constitution is a marvel to us. And then talk about equal rights! Bosh.

Sing a song of Bright Spots, Capsicum and squills.
Twenty-six prescriptions
Bound to cure your ills.

Each of them's compounded
With double-barrelled care.
We could say more about 'em
But we've got to stop. So there.

Where Gas Is Stored

After the gas is made and purified, it is stored in large holders. When you see one of these holders slowly descending, you know that the gas being used in thousands of burners is drawing on its capacity. But while one holder is going down another is going up, so that we always have a plentiful reserve supply of gas on hand. All of this requires care and attention day and night.

If You Are Plannin To Build

The prospective home owner, naturally, is interested in obtaining greater comfort and economy than were obtained in the old residence. Before the contract is given, get our ideas regarding the All-Gas kitchen with Range, Water Heater, and other labor-saving devices.

Visit our show room and see the assortment of Gas Ranges—plain finish and all enamel—a type and size for every home. Cabinet Range prices $47.99 and up—delivered and connected in your home for a small payment with the order and a small amount each month with your gas bill.

Will discontinue all Sunday business and their respective offices will remain closed on all Sundays.

We feel that this is the only right position to take. We are confident that this day of rest will enable us to still better serve our clients during the week and give to our business renewed energy. Then, too, it is only fair to our office assistants and our families, and above all of these considerations we know it is right from the standpoint of Sunday observance.

STORAGE is a big factor in profitable marketing and economical buying. Like most worth while things it works both ways. For the farmer or the man in town a vegetable and fruit cellar is a real economy.

A concrete foot cellar properly made, vermin-proof, water-proof and permanent, will soon pay for itself in more ways than one.

Your dealer can give you plans to construct a small one, or your local contractor can quickly build it for you. Either one is apt to suggest you use Atlas Portland Cement, "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

Dahlias can be planted any time up to July first, the best time is from June tenth to the fifteenth as the bloom from tubers in sixty days and give better blooms on new growth when the nights are cool.

Spring bulbs for next season's bloom should be ordered now and planted in October.

Peonies, Iris and Roses should be selected now, by name, for planting in October.

August fifteenth to September first is a good time to make a new lawn. Narberth Dahlia Show September 23rd.

COTILLION DANCE.

Juniors Emulate Their Brothers for an Evening.

The male population of the town was stirringly entertained last Wednesday night, when the members of the Junior Community Club, dressed in their "best" and "newest" things, and their brothers and sisters, in the popular "knickerbockers" of their own, and became happily involved in the Cotillion Dance. At least, that is what most of them did. The other half were representing the fair belles upon whom the favor of the aforenamed Club members was lavished to the extent of being "matched up" as partners for the wonderful Cotillion Dance held at Elm Hall, by the Club. And it is with pride that we say that no better looking couples ever attended a dance at the old hall, young men, watch to your laurels. For the line of "knickerbockers" representing every trade and condition of life—there were soldiers and sailors, jockeys, and white-flannel coaches, a cute little peppermint man, and Paderewski himself—were no less grand and gallant looking. Oh, the knots of some, than the array of sweet little French maids, Kandy Kids, and lots of "fast kids"—or the riding, hand-drawn, hair-ribboned, and bearded femininity which coyly danced in the protecting shadows of their "male partners." And the stunts, and the games, and the general peppy time—time of space prevent telling about. The box lunches which the ladies provided went a long way toward capturing the hearts of the "men," and they graciously reciprocated by paying for the orchestra—a marvelous pianist whom Paderewski had ordered as his second for the evening. Safe to say, had the town been aware that this gay and startling company ended up in one of the contention stores, business would have increased considerably, for the "couples" were sights worth seeing. Perhaps next year—for there surely will be a next to such a successful event—the Club will arrange for balcony seats for the public.

IN COMMENCEMENT.

An elaborate musical program rendered by members of the graduating class, assisted by the Conservatory Symphony Orchestra No. 1, marked the Thirty-seventh Annual Commencement exercises of the Combs Conservatory of Music, Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening last. A notable feature of the program was the singing of Miss Helen Strickler, of Montgomery avenue and Bryn Mawr. As a member of the graduating class she was selected to sing "Air of Salome" from "Herodias." Her rendition of this difficult number demonstrated that she was fully entitled to the honors which had been conferred upon her. The Commencement exercises of the Combs Conservatory are generally regarded as among the most important musical events of the season, and the crowded audiences which attend them are drawn by the high character of the musical program. In view of the high standards which have always been associated with the performance of those taking part in the musical exercises the selection of Miss Strickler to sing on this occasion was a tribute of which she and her many friends and admirers may well be proud. Miss Madelyn McCoy, 203 Chestnut Avenue, was awarded a piano diploma on this occasion.

NARBERTH'S ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER NEXT THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 8TH

Civic Association Meeting in Y. M. C. A.

To those who are not familiar with the Narberth Civic Association, let us explain that it is responsible for the starting and continuation for eight years of this publication, our paper—yours and your neighbor's; supporters of the organization qualify to the title "Good Citizen" by subscribing to the object set forth below.

Many other good works have been accomplished, the spirit of the organization being to improve our community by each lending a hand for the common good.

Every resident of Narberth is by fact of his or her residence in the Borough a member of the Civic Association, becoming an active member is an easy matter, attend this meeting and hear of plans for the future, that the Year Round Home Town will be an even better place in which to live.

Mr. Robert J. Nash is a candidate for the Presidency for the coming year. Mr. Nash's wide experience in this work, his contact with many organizations that are up and doing qualify him to be an able leader, his sincere interest in Narberth's welfare is well known, and his supporters are assured of a term of office that will mark progress in the right direction for our growing community.

Become a Narberth Booster, if a town is worth living in it is worth doing something for, remember—the further you get from home, the louder you praise it. Philadelphia, our big neighbor, is being hoisted. Narberth, an possibly stand a little favorable advertising, you can help a lot.

Object

The object of this Association shall be to improve and beautify the Borough and vicinity; to assist and cooperate with the authorities in enforcing laws and ordinances; to promote any project having for its purpose the betterment of the community as a whole; to provide a means of acquiring and disseminating information on any subject of general interest; to form such subsidiary bodies under its direction as may be needed to carry on its work; and to foster and maintain a fraternal spirit among the people of our community.

MEMORIAL DAY AT TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

Memorial Day was observed in a happy way by the members and families of members of the Narberth Tennis Association at the club house, Montgomery and Haverford avenues. In the morning men and women, and in the afternoon men alone enjoyed some fine matches, while the kiddies romped around the spacious lawn playing tag and other games. Rubie Sharp established the only record of the day, a distance record, playing thirty-two sets from the time he arrived on the courts, which is estimated at from five to six A. M., some claiming that he slept on the courts in a pop tent in order to be ready to play with the break of day, until sunset when it was too dark to see the ball even with his eagle eye. As the shades of evening lowered the Rubie, complaining of the fatigue of the day, wended his way up the pike to his home, but soon returned and dressed up like a broken arm. In his white flannels and Norfolk jacket and his hair spunk and span a la Benny Leonard, he danced away the evening hours. Some good sport!

The ladies of the Auxiliary served, in a most business-like fashion, an enjoyable catered supper; hot dogs, cold pig, pickles, pop, ice cream and cake. That many kids were not forced to take pepperment and other medicines for the overworked stomachs, speaks volumes for the health of the Narberth youngsters.

Walter Yoho Shaw ate so many hot dogs that he began to bark and he almost bit Jack Dube, whom he thought a stranger, Jack being all dressed up like a mannikin in a Chinese barber shop. But this did not stop the youths. Walter from dancing all evening long, shaking the most wicked knee of any one present excepting the rotund Perry Redifer, Sr.

The dance, in the attractive club house, was the first of its kind and it was a big success. Chairman of Entertainment Jess Harris wound the Victrola and kept things moving. Jess is at his best when he is helping to make things pleasant for other folks.

The ladies who served the supper were Mrs. Jesse Harris, Mrs. W. D. R. Evans, Mrs. A. Thornton Grigan, Mrs. Wm. J. K. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. W. R. D. Hall and Mrs. Harry Hartley.

An event of unusual interest was a pitch penny game which occurred just before twilight. The boys were all lined up trying to see who could pitch nickles closest to a given line. To lend an air of respectability to this piece of enterprise, Burgess Carl Metzger added his presence. The sight of the falling nickles, however, was too tempting to His Honor, and he forthwith instituted several schemes for appropriating most of the money, which he turned over to the Auxiliary.

Bob Pattison, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania, appeared on the courts for the first time this season and swatted the ball around for a couple of thousand votes. Jumping Jim Fallon, who has also gone Democratic, wanted to make a speech soliciting votes for Bob, but he quickly found that everybody in the club intends to vote for Bob, and so the members were spared hearing the Colonel as a spellbinder.

RUNS GALORE.

Monday evening the Elm Terrace Married Men's Defense League sprang into existence and issued a baseball challenge to their sons and friends. The game was played on the High School diamond this morning, with an umpire n'everything. Pitcher Fox performed ably for the Married Men, but the singletons had to take out one pitcher and substitute another, Heckel and Yocum officiating. Captain Litchfield did well at first base, but the star of the game was S. S. Bearly, who also ran second base, by knocking out a home run clear to Essex avenue. It is said that an Athletic scout was watching the talent and sought an interview. Director Nice, of the Choral Society, lost his equilibrium in left field, and the ball bounced from that shining head clear to the school wall. Yocums Two, Leuch as catcher, Wolf, who starred by striking out twice in succession, and Heckel were good, particularly when the home run blew in three men all out of breath.

The Singles were Heckel, Yocums two, Wolf, Cunningham, Litchfield, Haner, Hurdy and Don Heckel. Their star was Bremer Yocum, who polished off a nice home run. It was a good game with sensational stunts, but the score, Oh, Boy, was 21 to 15, thus proving that Youth will have its day.

WEDDING GIFTS OF A PRACTICAL NATURE

are more welcome than the more ornate because their utility keeps awake the remembrance of the donor. There are many items in a hardware store that serve very well as wedding gifts and can be displayed with the other gifts to advantage. A set of tools, a collection of Pyrex or Aluminum give the new housekeeper a wonderful start.
